Recapture Of Two Important Towns Is Major Victory

By HENRY C. CASSIDY

Moscow, Jan. 4.—(P)—The Red army of the Caucasus advanced along both banks of the Terek river today, driving the Germans back to the northwest and west from newly recaptured Mozdok and breaking a salient the Nazi forces had thrust forward more than four months ago toward the Grozny oil fields, Russian reports said.

The swift Russian recapture yesterday of Mozdok and Malgobek, 15 miles southeast of Mozdok, was considered a major victory like those of Stalingrad and Velikie Luki, where the Red army continued its offensives.

JAP POSITION ON PENINSULA IS CRITICAL

Surrounded and Facing Annihilation Forces Confined to Narrow Pocket

MOVING UP FOR KILL

Allied Headquarters in Australia, Jan. 4.—(P)—Surrounded and facing annihilation, the only Japanese forces remaining on the Papuan Peninsula of New Guinea were confined today in a narrow pocket on Sanandanda Point by American and Australian troops who wiped out the last vestiges of enemy resistance around Buna over the weekend.

"The enemy's position is now hopeless, adding that Allied troops already were moving up for the kill."

Tersely the bulletin announced that the Allies had "completed the destruction of the enemy's defeated forces" in the Buna area—a statement which a headquarters spokesman amplified by declaring that 650 Japanese had been slain in mopping up operations following the capture of Buna Mission. Enemy Makes New Effort To Supply Guadalcanal Forces

Washington, Jan. 4.—(P)—Eight Japanese destroyers were discovered off the northwestern end of Guadalcanal island last Saturday, the navy reported today, and were attacked by motor torpedo boats which definitely scored a hit on one and three possible hits on two more.

This apparently was the latest Japanese attempt to supply their troops on Guadalcanal since they dropped about 30 parachute cargoes on the beach at Tassafaronga Dec. 27. The parachute supplies were bombed and strafed by American army planes.

Whether the torpedo boats succeeded in turning back the Japanese attack was not stated by the navy but it was noted that only one torpedo hit on one vessel was reported as certain. It would have been possible for the others to

CONGRESS IS FACING HARD ASSIGNMENT

Not For Many Years Has Membership of House And Senate Been So Evenly Divided

SHAPE PEACE PATTERN

BY ALEX H. SINGLETON

Washington, Jan. 4.—(P)—The crucible of global war held for the incoming 75th Congress today one of history's toughest assignments—the job of testing the nation's stamina as it fuses the ingredients of manpower, money and material for victory and eventual peace.

From its work will be shaped the way of life on the home front; from its appropriations will be forged the weapons of war for the American fighting forces; from its deliberations may come the pattern for a lasting peace.

The 75th congress convenes Wednesday. Not for many years has membership of the house and senate been so evenly divided, yet leaders of both the Democratic majority and the resurgent Republican minority have declared that division would disappear on war issues.

But the election-born realignment and the determination of the Republicans to give congress greater initiative in writing legislation may prove to have a far-reaching effect on matters affecting the civilian population.

It appeared certain to be reflected in drives for economies in attempts to curb the powers acquired by federal departments and bureaus, in moves to restore greater control to state and local government.

Overshadowing other problems will be that of supplying the fighting forces and of furnishing weapons of war to other United Nations. For that purpose, congress already has appropriated $220,000,000, much of it still unspent. President Roosevelt is (Turn To Page Nine)

ASSAULTS ON BASES IN BURMA CONTINUE

New Delhi, Jan. 4.—(P)—RAF fighter planes, continuing their daily assaults on Japanese bases in Burma, yesterday raided several enemy-occupied villages in the Rathedaung area, strafed a column of trucks at Meiktila and set fire to buildings and railway cars near Monywa, a British communiqué announced today.

The raids were carried out without the loss of a plane, the announcement said.

The bulletin made no mention of British ground forces which have been reported operating in the Rathedaung area, some 25 miles northwest of Akyab, after pushing down the Burmese coast from the Indian frontier.

Maxey Sworn In As State's Chief Justice

Philadelphia, Jan. 4.—(P)—Justice George W. Maxey of Scranton, once a miner in the anthracite fields, today was elevated to chief justice of Pennsylvania—the 45th person to hold the office since the first appointment by William Penn in 1681.

Justice James B. Drew of Pittsburgh administered the oath to the new chief justice in a simple ceremony in the court's chambers in the city. The chambers were jammed with spectators and many persons had to stand in outside corridors.

As his first official act after taking over the state's highest judicial post, Chief Justice Maxey swore in a new member of the tribunal—Justice Allen M. Stearns of the Philadelphia orphans court.

The new chief justice's commission from Governor Arthur James was read by Prothonotary Charles A. Waters, who also read Justice Stearns's commission. Maxey immediately occupied the center chair while the new associate justice, sworn in as he stood before the bar, took his seat at the extreme left.

Justice Maxey commented that the new member "comes with a firmly established reputation for unflinching kindness and courtesy." More than 300 of those attending the ceremony congratulated the justices in the court library. With Chief Justice Maxey were his wife and three daughters, and with Justice Stearns were his wife and daughter. (Turn To Page Nine)

Better Plan to Have Those Tires Inspected

Washington, Jan. 4.—(P)—The Office of Price Administration said today that neither gasoline ration books nor tires would be issued in the future to motorists who fail to have their tires inspected by January 31.

All car owners, regardless of the kind of rationing book they have, are required to have their first tire inspection by the end of this month.

Book Tells Of Cunning Trap Laid By Tokyo

Attempt to Induce President to Board Warship Foiled by Sec. Hull

WARNING BY G R E W

BY WADE WERNER

Washington, Jan. 4.—(P)—How close Pearl Harbor came to being a much greater national humiliation than it actually was is disclosed in the White Book issued by Secretary of State Hull over the weekend to promote "a clearer understanding" of war problems and issues by Americans.

The final and most dramatic portion of the book reveals that the Japanese not only planned months in advance for "a surprise mass attack at Pearl Harbor," but did their diplomatic utmost to maneuver Japanese-American peace discussions in such a way that President Roosevelt would be in the hands of the Japanese navy when its torpedo planes stabbed at the heart of the American seapower in the Pacific.

Ambassador Joseph C. Grew informed the state department on Jan. 27, 1941, of reports that Japan planned the surprise attack in case of "trouble" with the United States.

Apparently the Japanese government did not know the American ambassador had got wind of its designs, for a few months later it began urging on the state department a plan to bring President Roosevelt and Premier Prince Konoye together aboard a Japanese warship in the Pacific for a "frank exchange of views."

Japanese Ambassador Kichisaburo Nomura broached the subject to Secretary Hull on Aug. 8, when the presence of Japanese troops in French Indo-China was complicating the already strained relations between Japan and the United States.

Because of the Japanese failure to cajole or browbeat the United States into going through with the high-seas conference plan, however, President Roosevelt was not aboard a Japanese warship when the Japanese navy struck at Pearl Harbor.

Subscription Rates Boosted By 70 of State's 133 Dailies

Mounting Expenses and Reduced Advertising Make Increases Necessary

SURVEY INTERESTING

Harrisburg, Jan. 4.—(P)—The Pennsylvania Newspaper Publishers Association reported today that increased cost of operation in wartime caused 70 of the state's 133 dailies to raise subscription rates in 1942.

A PNPA survey disclosed factors in the price increases included mounting expenses of gathering war news from scattered fronts, high cable and telegraph rates, reduced advertising, increased taxes, enlarged payrolls and restrictions on business operations as newspaper deliveries.

"Reports from the 70 newspapers that raised their subscription rates during 1942 show that there were no lasting losses in circulation," declared William N. Hardy, PNPA manager.

Noting that in spite of increased subscription rates, Pennsylvania newspapers "are still sold at rates lower than those charged in other parts of the country," Hardy added:

"Inasmuch as publishing costs are still rising, further increases in the subscription rates of Pennsylvania newspapers are expected to bring them in line with others throughout the country. (Turn To Page Nine)

LITTLE HOPE OF RELAXING FUEL QUOTAS

Petroleum Administrator Ickes Tells Committee Supplies Are on "Hand to Mouth Basis"

SITUATION IS REVIEWED

Washington, Jan. 4.—(P)—Petroleum Administrator Ickes told a special senate committee today that the eastern seaboard's gasoline and fuel oil supplies were on a "hand to mouth basis" and were likely to continue in that status for months to come.

The first witness in an investigation of the petroleum shortage, the petroleum administrator said he had not felt justified in "holding out any hope in the relaxation of very necessary rationing of gasoline" and could hope for only slight easing in fuel oil quotas.

Ickes said the new pipeline from east Texas to Illinois, going into operation Feb. 1, would help relieve the situation, but petroleum demands for the American forces in North Africa were growing. He expressed a hope that a new $25 miles pipeline from Illinois to New Jersey could be completed by June 1.

Reviewing the supply situation, Ickes said eastern states' demand was running to 1,500,000 barrels of oil daily, as against present transportation of about 1,000,000 barrels. Rail tank cars were wearing out and 14 per cent of them now were in the repair shop all the time, he said.

SOMERSET FLIER DIES IN CRASH OF PLANE

Montgomery, Ala., Jan. 4.—(P)—The public relations office of Gunter Field announced last night that Aviation Cadet Donald M. Walker, 26, of Somerset, Pa., was killed when his plane crashed on a routine training flight here Saturday.

The office said cause of the accident was undetermined and a military board would investigate. Walker is survived by his wife and mother, both of Somerset.

High Water At Cincinnati

Cincinnati, Jan. 4.—(P)—A 150-mile-long flood crest moved slowly down the Ohio river through the Cincinnati district today, covering bottoms with muddy water, stopping navigation, shutting down some war plants and chasing lowland residents to higher ground.

However, impending cold weather plus low stages in all tributaries above Louisville—150 miles downstream—promised a moderately fast run-off, leaving little material damage behind, barring heavy rains.

The river, over flood stage for its entire 981 miles last week cresting at Portsmouth, O., manufacturing city of 40,000 people, and then started falling slowly.

Portsmouth's peak was 61, a foot under the top of its five-mile flood-wall; 60-foot stages prevailed today from there to Cincinnati, a distance of 150 miles.

Perhaps a thousand families had to leave their homes in smaller cities and suburban areas on the Ohio and Kentucky sides of the river.

Meanwhile, far up the valley, from Parkersburg, W. Va., to Pittsburgh, some 50,000 persons cleared away mud and debris and began moving into homes from which last week's flood had driven them.

The nine traffic deaths included six pedestrians.

War-Time Thrift Pegged On Tax Reduction Holds Attention As 135th Session Convenes

By WICK TEMPLE

Harrisburg, Jan. 4.—(P)—War-time economy pegged on tax reduction and retrenchment of governmental operations held attention of legislators gathering today for the 135th regular session of Pennsylvania's general assembly.

Republican majority leaders completed organization plans at a series of caucuses with expressed hopes of a short session requested by Governor-elect Edward Martin, "so we can get along with the war program."

Demanding solution, however, will be a variety of problems topped by government financing, taxes, war powers by the chief executive, liquor control, partial unemployment benefits, increased school teachers' salaries, congressional and legislative reapportionment and post-war developments.

GOP control of both house and senate for the first time since 1929 makes organization a formality when the session gets under way at noon tomorrow. A joint session scheduled for 4 p. m. will hear retiring Governor Arthur H. James report in person on the state of the commonwealth and on return of the treasury to a balanced budget.

Republican house "freshmen" will meet with party leaders today at 4 p. m. for an informal caucus which will be followed four hours later by the official pre-legislative session caucus of all Republican legislators.

Democrats will hold informal sessions tonight and will meet in regular caucus tomorrow at 11 a. m.

A recess until January 18 will give Republican leaders time to set up legislative committees before inauguration, the following day of Governor-elect Martin, who will outline the administration legislative program when he takes the oath of office in a simple 30-minute ceremony.

Martin has indicated a comprehensive war-time plan for the state with elimination of every function not necessary during the emergency.

"Economy is the intention of everybody," declared Rep. Ira T. Fiss, of Snyder county, slated for speaker of the house.

"We are going to practice economy as far as it is possible to do it. It is quite clear that's one of the things Governor-elect Martin will talk about at his inauguration."

Senator Charles H. Ealy, of Somerset, slated for another term as president pro tempore of the upper branch, echoed the representative's views as he led the vanguard of senators into the capital city.

Other legislative leaders agreed upon in party caucuses: House—Franklin H. Litchner, of Lehigh, Republican floor leader; Walter H. Rose, of Cambria, Republican whip; Reuben E. Cohen, of Philadelphia, Democratic floor leader; and Rep. James E. Lovett, of Westmoreland, Democratic whip.

Senate—Weldon B. Heyburn, of Delaware, Republican floor leader; B. B. McGinnis, of Allegheny, Democratic floor leader; Edward J. Coleman, of Lackawanna, Democratic whip.

Tax reduction has developed as a major problem of the Martin administration, what with prospects of a $60,000,000 cut in revenue during the next biennium as reported recently through the GOP state executive committee. While Martin said he is anxious to cut taxes as pledged in his platform, a definite decision on the matter was delayed pending a special committee report expected late in January.

Democrats seek a $100,000,000 cut. The next governor has expressed (Turn To Page Nine)

STATE RELIEF CASES DROP 55 PER CENT

Harrisburg, Jan. 4.—(P)—Pennsylvania started 1943 with 32,911 relief cases, a drop of 55 per cent from the 72,500 total of a year ago.

Secretary Howard L. Russell, of the public assistance department, reported that 29,000 of the 32,911 cases or seven of every eight cases were without any employable persons. He added that the final week of 1942 brought a reduction of 276 cases.

Holiday Fatalities Are Below Average

By the Associated Press
The nation, looking back over its New Year's holiday period, learned today that apparently gasoline rationing, reduced driving speeds, general travel curtailment and holiday operated war plants had served to slash the toll of violent deaths compared with year ends in recent years.

An Associated Press survey of the nation showed only 232 fatalities since New Year's Eve, 139 of which were traffic deaths and 93 from miscellaneous causes—drownings, stabbings, shootings, suffocation and falls.

Comparatively, last year's short New Year's holiday ended with a toll of 265 deaths, of which 171 were in motor accidents.

Accidental deaths in Pennsylvania over the weekend from Thursday night to Monday morning claimed at least 15 victims, nine of them in traffic mishaps.

The youngest and oldest fatality victims died in fires. Patricia Ann Russell, 3, was burned to death at Pittsburgh when a Christmas tree caught fire. August Miller, 86, also of Pittsburgh, was fatally burned when he fell asleep while smoking and sparks from his pipe ignited his clothing.

The nine traffic deaths included six pedestrians.

HEAVY ENEMY TANK ASSAULT HURLED BACK

French Forces Effectively Aided by U. S. Gunners Score Victory South-east of Pichon

SOUSSE PORT RAIDED

By the Associated Press

London, Jan. 4.—French forces effectively backed by United States anti-tank gunners and planes hurled back a heavy Axis armored attack yesterday south-east of Pichon and captured both German and Italian prisoners, dispatches from Allied headquarters in North Africa announced today.

Correlated with this action were two raids by American airmen flying light bombers and fighters, against Axis armored equipment concealed about the Port of Sousse, some 60 miles to the east, in which half a dozen tanks were destroyed or burned, and many others were damaged.

Braving bad weather, the fliers struck with bombs, cannon and machine-guns. One Lockheed P-38 was lost, but the pilot got down safely.

It was a spectacular follow-up to a great display of growing Allied air power in Tunisia at the weekend in which American and British planes shot down 28 enemy aircraft, damaged 34 others and battered Axis supply bases.

French infantry, motorized cavalry, some artillery and anti-tank units bore the brunt of the German-Italian thrust in the region of Foudouk, southeast of Pichon. The French commander cited American anti-tank crews and planes for their support.

It was the first reference to American troops in action in that immediate area, although U. S. forces were known previously to have moved into the southern reaches (Turn To Page Nine)

Epidemic Of Smallpox Is On Increase

Lancaster, Jan. 4.—(P)—Two new cases of smallpox were reported today by local health authorities, who immediately ordered wider vaccination to curb the week-old outbreak. Eight active and four recovered cases are listed here.

The latest persons to be stricken are Mother Mary Mercedes, mother superior at St. Mary's Convent, and four-year-old Joseph Jones, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Jones, Manheim township. Dr. A. Greenleaf, county medical director, said the boy's father had recently recovered from the disease.

Dr. Joseph Appleyard, city health director, who reported the case at the convention, ordered an observation quarantine which will postpone for two weeks reopening of a parochial school there.

A city board of health order requiring vaccination of all persons serving or handling meat and milk in Lancaster was expanded yesterday by a request of retail store owners to require all employees to be vaccinated as soon as possible.

The smallpox epidemic, first reported in Milford county near Lewistown and traced to an Amish wedding at Belleville Nov. 24, has affected at least 50 persons.

Senator Davis Voices Need Of Constructing Kinzua Dam

Washington, Jan. 4.—(P)—Hope that the flood in the Pittsburgh area and the halting of work in a number of war industries will spur congress to appropriate funds for construction of the Kinzua flood-control dam at the headwaters of the Allegheny river was voiced by Senator James J. Davis, Pennsylvania Republican.

"The damage caused by these floods, the resulting stoppage of work, and the loss of wages for employees of war industries and in other industries would equal the cost of the Kinzua project," Davis said.

"No one is saving any money this way. And materials aren't being saved either, because material will be needed to repair flood damage."

The Kinzua project, one of a number of Pennsylvania flood-control measures for which the War Department has made surveys and drawn up plans, has not been started because it was not considered necessary to the prosecution of the war.

A spokesman in the flood control section of the War Department said the Kinzua dam plans have been drawn and approved, but that lack of funds has made it impossible to begin construction. He said the department is restricting its flood-control work to projects which have been declared necessary to the war effort.

The Kinzua dam has not been so designated, he said, but the fact that the present flood has caused stoppage of work in some war industries in the Pittsburgh area may cause reconsideration of the project. The money for such undertakings comes from a War Department appropriation made by congress.

FOURTEEN HIKERS IN FIRST TRIP OF YEAR

The Allegheny Hiking Club's first journey for 1943 was an enjoyable Sunday afternoon hike. Starting from General Joseph Warren Park the 14 hikers walked up Jackson avenue to a point near the Glade Township School, turning south down the road into the former Irvinedale Park, then northeast over woods paths, crossing the Page Hollow Road and then left and northwest through the Kylander Farm to Jackson St. Extension, returning by this road. This first hike of the new year marked the Club's 97th different trip and the 9th one of this season.

SCHOOLS RESUME SESSIONS

Warren schools resumed their sessions this morning after the Christmas and New Year holidays and the pupils moved off to school before sunrise as the sun was not due to put in an appearance until 8:45. There was also a great number of young folk who had been home from college who turned to their studies last evening on the trains. Gas rationing and bad roads sent the college delegation back to their books by train and the number who left the city on the cars last evening was perhaps the greatest in many years.

ROADS ARE SLIPPERY

Reports from the State Highway Department this morning stated that five snow plows are busy on the country roads and that 18 highway crews are out placing cinders on danger spots where the ice is particularly bad. Superintendent Sigworth also said that the winds are piling the snow deep into drifts on several highways and before the day is done practically all of the plows will be in commission in an endeavor to keep the highways open. The drifts are bothersome on the hilly roads of the county, according to Mr. Sigworth, and are giving mail and school bus drivers some trouble.

WELCOME WAS SUBDUED

New Year 1943 got rather a subdued welcome when it arrived last Friday morning. A few whistles sounded and a few bells were rung while several ganged away with shot guns. It was one of the quietest celebrations marking a new year reception that has been experienced in many years. There were a number of dances, parties and gatherings in several of the churches throughout the city and county. The holiday was marked by the closing of the majority of business places in the city and Saturday was also a quiet day. However in the manufacturing plants about the county where war-work is under way there was no observance of the holiday.

GASOLINE CAUSED ALARM

Firemen from the Central station responded to a call from the home of Frank S. Seely, 3 East Third avenue, New Year's Day evening. Mr. Seely had been out with his automobile during the afternoon and had placed it in the garage. Later his daughter went to the basement and smelled gasoline fumes. Firemen were called and an investigation showed a hole in the gas tank of the car had allowed the gasoline to leak out and it followed a crevice of some kind into the basement. All fires were promptly put out and the gasoline in the basement washed out and water allowed to flow through the crevice from the garage to the basement. Discovery of the gasoline in the basement undoubtedly saved a disastrous fire. Persons who have gasoline stored are asked to exercise the greatest of care to prevent leaks and possible fires.

Marconi-Outing Club Policy is Unchanged

The Marconi-Outing Club on Sunday evening closed one of its most successful holiday seasons presenting one of the most delightful floor shows that has ever been offered to its members and their ladies. The attendance during the week was also most gratifying and plans are being laid for a continuation of the policy which during the months passed has given Warren some of its most outstanding night club entertainment. The handsome club and its appointments escaped any damage in the recent high water and the fine dancing floor is in good shape at the club despite the fact that many clubs along the river had their floors ruined by the flood. It was inadvertently announced in the Times-Mirror last week that the club would suspend its activities after last Sunday due to gasoline and tire shortages. This was erroneous, obtained from a considered reliable source and it is with keen pleasure that The Times-Mirror announces that the club will continue to operate and present its fine entertainment for the pleasure of its members.

WAS KNOWN HERE

Ernest K. Roper, who died of a heart attack while attending a New Year's Eve party at the St. Marys Elks' Club, was well known in Warren. He was the manager of the men's department of Smith Brothers' Department store there for some years and was the husband of Esther Braund Roper, who sings frequently in Warren and was for a time head of the voice department of the Warren Conservatory of Music. Funeral services were held from the family home this afternoon.

Lucky Baby Will Receive Many Gifts

Warren's New Year's baby arrived at 10:45 a. m. on New Year's day at the Maternity ward of the Warren General Hospital to Mr. and Mrs. John P. Trevenen and was a boy. The young man was especially fortunate as the Warren merchants had arranged a number of handsome gifts which will be presented to him. The gifts range from diapers to silver cups and the fortunate young man as well as his parents is to be congratulated.

The second New Year's baby born was a girl born to Mr. and Mrs. Lorraine Hamilton of North Warren. However it did not arrive in time having been born at 12:45 p. m. on New Year's day.

TOP RADIO STARS IN "HERE WE GO AGAIN"

At Library Theatre Today and Tuesday

A galaxy of radio favorites heads the cast of RKO Radio's newest, laugh-riot, "Here We Go Again," a gripping plot and unusually interesting outdoor settings.

Heading the list of air favorites are stars of the film, Fibber McGee and Molly, that pair of homey folks from Wistful Vista, and Edgar Bergen and Charlie McCarthy, the famous ventriloquist and his alter ego. Then there is Harold Peary, known to millions over the air as "The Great Gildersleeve"; Mortimer Snerd, another Bergen creation; Ginny Simms, formerly vocalist with the Kay Kyser band; Bill Thompson, whose radio role of the "Old Timer" has brought him national fame; Ray Noble and his orchestra and Gale Gordon from the Fibber McGee and Molly air show. Allan Dwan produced and directed the picture.

no further than the planning stage. George L. Beard, an engineer in the War Department's flood control section, said five completed dams proved effective in the holiday season flood.

These are situated on the Tionesta and Crooked Creeks, at the headwaters of the Allegheny; the Mahoning and Loyallanna creeks, farther south, and the Tygart reservoir, a part of the Monongahela river system, near Grafton, West Virginia. In addition, he said, reports received by the War Department indicated that the Stony Creek project in Johnstown is carrying off the water satisfactorily. The Stony Creek project included reconstructing the channel with concrete.

Air Raid Posts Are Ordered Manned Daily

Air raid warning towers in Warren county and Western Pennsylvania were ordered Saturday to be reopened and manned 24 hours each day beginning today. To that end all towers in the county were manned today and will continue to be so manned until further orders are received. For some weeks past an effort has been made to enlist more and more persons in this spotter service and to have new observation posts opened.

County Supervisors at their recent convention held in the county were told of their duties in this connection and urged to get posts set up in their communities. The supervisors were asked to provide heat in the posts, to arrange for telephone installations, etc. Sec. Thomson, of the state organization of supervisors stressed this point greatly in his address to the supervisors.

Brig. Gen. Willard R. Taylor, commanding officer of the First Fighter Command in charge of air reconnaissance in the Eastern United States in issuing the order for manning the towers asked for more volunteers and described their duties as "vitality important."

Brig. Gen. Taylor sent the following appeal to Western Pennsylvania through the newspapers: "A need for volunteers in the aerial information centers is greater than ever before. It is likewise vitally important to man the observation posts on a 24-hour schedule."

"I cannot overemphasize the importance of the Western Pennsylvania area. Your increasing concentration of war industry and Great Lakes shipping, combined with your close proximity to Canada, dictate our present action."

"We must not succumb to the thinking that successes of foreign fronts give us reason to let down in our effort to protect the Western Pennsylvania region in the most thorough manner possible."

MOTORISTS SHOULD KNOW THESE DATES

Inspection coupon validity periods, license deadlines and what not provide almost too many dates for the motorists to remember nowadays. At any rate, here's a calendar which might come in handy as a reminder of responsibilities to meet in the immediate future:

Jan. 21—Last day on which No. 3 coupons in A books may be used.

Jan. 22—No. 4 gasoline coupons become valid for two months' period.

Jan. 31—Last day for initial tire inspections under mileage rationing program.

Jan. 31—Last day for semi-annual state inspection of motor vehicles.

TIMES TOPICS

Received too late to include in Thursday's rural churches was announcement that the Chandeliers Valley Luther League will meet at 8 p. m. Thursday.

COUNTY'S BOND QUOTA
For the month of January Warren county has been assigned a quota of $322,926 and Forest county has been assigned $33,027. These quotas are based on the purchase price of the bonds.

IS NAVY ENLISTEE
Henry F. Passinger, formerly of Russell and brother of Pvt. Lloyd C. Passinger, of Camp Livingston, La., has joined the navy and is located at the Newport, R. I., naval training station.

SHRINE WILL ELECT
The annual business meeting of the Warren County Shrine Club will be held at eight o'clock Wednesday evening in the Warren Baking Company building, when officers will be elected and plans will be made for 1943 activities.

MADE A RECORD
Warren and Forest counties in the December Victory Fund drive made a splendid record. Five western Pennsylvania counties topped their revised quota and two of the five were Warren and Forest counties so that residents of these two counties may be proud of their records.

STATIONS ARE WARNED
Gasoline stations which accept loose ration book coupons are subject to loss of their operating license, the Office of Price Administration warns. The OPA said station attendants must detach each coupon themselves and that the auto license number must be marked on the back of each coupon.

RESTAURANT OPENS TODAY
The Blue and White Restaurant opened for business today following several weeks of work being done in repairing and rejuvenating the place following the fire which damaged it several weeks ago. The restaurant has been greatly improved in its appearance and in its facilities in the remodeling. The fountain has been moved to the south side of the room and the number of booths and tables increased. The color scheme has also been changed and the whole place is very beautiful and attractive. The kitchen has also been improved by a number of new conveniences and the whole place is a credit to the genial proprietor, Constantine Spirodon.

Jan. 31—1942 operators' license expires.
March 31—1942 motor vehicle registration expires.

PENN STATE'S MODERN MAGIC AT HIGH SCHOOL TONIGHT

Although 2200 volts of electricity will electrocute an average man, Dr. Harry L. Van Velsor, Pennsylvania State College professor, is pictured at upper left passing 1,000,000 volts through his body. Secret is his understanding of electrical principles which will be demonstrated by the famed "mobile laboratory." Other pictures show audience participation in demonstration. This experiment will be given, with others, at the High School tonight at 8:30 o'clock. No admission fee is charged.

Permanent R-Day Starts For All Youths Reaching 18

A new R-Day and one that will continue through the year was begun on Saturday for youth of 18 who were born on January 1 and 2, 1925. Those born on January 3 and 4, 1925, must register today at their draft boards.

Thus as each member of the 1925 group becomes 18, he will be required to enroll and receive his draft registration card. In increased, the color scheme has also been changed and the whole place is very beautiful and attractive. The kitchen has also been improved by a number of new conveniences and the whole place is a credit to the genial proprietor, Constantine Spirodon.

Draft board officials estimate it will be some months before any of the new class will be called up for induction. On the other hand any who are going to high school may have their induction deferred—merely by requesting their boards—until the end of the second school semester.

New Goal Set For District In Metal Drive

During the holiday season there was somewhat of a let down in the drive for scrap of all kinds in this county and a renewed drive for scrap metals on the home front to keep the steel mills roaring is urged by Albert H. Burdick, Jr., War Production Board director of western Pennsylvania.

Although the 1942 quota in which the Warren district plays a large part exceeded demands by several million tons, the new goal of 24,000,000 additional tons will call for intensified effort, Burdick said. The tonnage drive for 1942 in this district reached 26,000,000 tons.

The director pointed out that industrial leaders are being urged to scrap demands on the consumption of 31,000,000 tons of waste materials indicating a record year of steel production.

NORTH WARREN

North Warren is very glad the weather has turned colder as many cellars were flooded with water. Most residents have their own water systems here which makes it necessary to shut off the electric pumps when there is high water. There was a small ice gorge on Jackson Run which moved out Monday without doing any damage.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Clark entertained at a dinner party Sunday at their home on North State street. The guests, relatives of Mrs. Clark, were Mr. and Mrs. William Kribb, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Hartman and Miss Jean Spade of Warren, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Sharp, Jamestown, N. Y., and Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Sharp of Glen Ridge, N. J.

Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Thompson, Warren-Jamestown Road, spent the Christmas holidays at their son Albert's home in Springfield, Ohio. On Sunday they attended the services at the Covenant Presbyterian church at which time their son and his wife joined the church and their new grandson, Allan Robert, was baptized.

Watch Night Service Was Enjoyable One

Youngsville, Jan. 4.—The first hour of the Watch Night service of the Methodist church held in the dining room of the church was conducted from 9 to 10 by the young people of the church with several games and a story. The second period consisted of the singing of hymns under the direction of their leader, Freeman Brown, with Miss Roberta Lodge at the piano. Pleasing refreshments were served at tables trimmed with candles and holiday decorations.

The last hour's program included a New Year's sermon by the pastor, Rev. Dwight Jack, with his subject "The Open Door." This was followed by songs of consecration and prayer and testimony until the church bells rang out the old year and the new year in.

The Co-operative Dinner Club had dinner Sunday evening at 5 p. m. at the Pittsfield Inn, followed by the Christmas party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Mead where the guests enjoyed the showing of films in a technicolor taken by Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Briggs on a western trip. The Club Christmas gifts took, this year, the form of Defense Stamps.

Serg. Ronald Smith is to have this week a furlough in Youngsville with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. V. D. Smith. He is now located at Fort Totten, Long Island, N. Y.

Serg. Klair Peterson enjoyed a brief holiday period with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Peterson.

The place of meeting for the Orange Circle on next Wednesday has been changed from Mrs. Earl Barton's to Mrs. Ed Chapel's on East Main street.

Miss Myrtle Norman from Akron, Ohio, is a holiday guest of her sisters, Mrs. Russell Smith and Mrs. Wave Carlson.

Frederick Carlson has returned to New England after a short stay with his mother here. He is very soon to enter a post graduate course in Harvard College.

A number of deer skins were donated to the Youngsville Fish and Game Club. These were taken by Gunney Ball to the tannery at Mount Jewett where they will be prepared for use as warm clothing for service men as caps and vests.

Youngsville Volunteer Fire Company held their annual election at the meeting held New Year's Eve in the Borough building. Officers elected were as follows: President, Robert Spencer; vice president, Willys Johnson; secretary, Clifford Ball; assistant secretary, Guy Sample; treasurer, C. W. Spencer; fire chief, L. L. Johnson; first assistant fire chief, Merle See; second assistant fire chief, Merle Welsh; trustee for three years, Willys Johnson.

Officers for the fire trucks: Fifth truck, Captain, Willys Johnson; Lieutenant, Leland Siller; engineer, Earl Arnold; assistant engineer, Archie Littlefield. Fourth truck, Captain, Robert Hutley; assistant captain, R. E. Abraham; lieutenant, Ed Chapel; engineer, Harold Culver; assistant engineer, R. E. Abraham. Salvage engineer, Wallace Lake; assistant salvage engineer, J. M. Sanford.

Oscar Johnson was made a new member of the Volunteer Fire Department. The company continues to be thirty in number. Raymond Barton, now in the armed forces, is the first local fireman to be called to the service.

New bylaws, recently adopted, were presented in printed form to each member by the committee on bylaws; also each member received a membership card for 1943.

Chief L. L. Johnson gave his report for the work of the company in 1942, which showed how much real service and benefit the Youngsville volunteer firemen have given to the community through the year.

Calendar of County Court For '43 Issued

The Court Calendar for 1943 has been issued and it is an interesting booklet listing the names of all county officials; notaries, constables and justices in the county. Officers and committees of the Bar Association also appear along with the names of the road viewers and the various holidays.

The complete list of the practicing attorneys in the county is given and the officers of the County Court are listed.

The complete Court Calendar for the year appears. In this connection Judge Allison Wade had made two rules which are applicable to the courts the coming year. The rules are as follows:

Instead of making the subpoenas for the first Monday of March, June, September and December, the subpoenas will issue and be made returnable the first Tuesday after the first Monday of each of the foregoing months, and the subpoenas for grand jurors will be made returnable the first Monday of each month, to-wit: March, June, September and December.

In accordance with Rule 212 of the Pennsylvania Supreme Court Rules, pre-trial conferences will be arranged. The opening date of the pre-trial conferences, as set forth in the Calendar, is the fifth Friday of April and fifth Friday of October. The exact time for the conferences will be set in accordance with the Supreme Court Rules and notice will be given accordingly.

Jury trials shall have precedence over all other cases, and cases at argument courts in which testimony is to be taken shall have

PENNSYLVANIA GAS COMPANY

PUBLISHED IN SUPPORT OF THE GOVERNMENT'S PROGRAM TO CONSERVE VITAL FUELS FOR WAR PURPOSES

TREMENDOUS quantities of gas are needed to keep war production plants working at top speed. Uncle Sam is calling for more and more gas every day.

Under normal conditions, we could obtain steel and other materials to enlarge our gas supply and meet all needs. Today, this is impossible.

If every home suddenly decided to use gas range top or oven burners for supplementary heating on cold days, our gas supply would be seriously affected. You would have little gas for cooking. War plant production would be slowed down or stopped.

Will you help maintain gas service vital to war plants by not using your gas range oven for heating your kitchen?

PASS THE NEW EDITIONS

Again we are invited to give books to help American soldiers, sailors, marines, coast guardsmen and merchant seamen improve and distract their minds in such leisure as the winning of the war may leave for them.

From Jan. 5 to March 5, a second Victory Book Campaign will be waged. But this time, a backlog having been built in 1942, emphasis will be on quality rather than quantity.

The men in uniform—five million now and almost twice as many before another New Year—are going to need a lot of books. But in the words of Corp. John Ripley Forbes, librarian for Napier Air Field at Dothan, Ala.:

"After all, you can't expect a husky young soldier headed for combat duty to take a feverish interest in the State Papers of Grover Cleveland, the 'Ladies' Guide to Home Needlework,' or a dogeared arithmetic of the vintage of 1904."

In other words, this is not a substitute for tossing unwanted books into the trash can. This is a contribution to the morale of men who are offering their lives and are suffering privations if not bitter hardships. It is an insult to such men to donate only such books as we want to clear off the shelves.

They want the same best-sellers we like to read at home; recent fiction and worthwhile non-fiction—say not more than 10 years old; technical books that are really useful—men's books published since 1935.

The most popular offerings, reports Corporal Forbes (who in civilian life was a museum director and is no novice in this field) are "popular westerns, weird and thrilling murder mysteries, light fiction, late novels, technical books of all kinds and the latest current event material."

The campaign was requested by the Army and the Navy and is sponsored jointly by the American Library Association, the American Red Cross and the United Service Organizations.

Book donations are to be accumulated locally at the Warren Public Library as well as every library in the country. Thence they will be distributed to camp and naval base and ship libraries, to USO centers and Merchant Marine libraries.

Don't worry about an oversupply. Any American Legionnaire will tell you how far from too many books the camp libraries had in World War I.

Just give, collect, prod your friends, in hope that the supply may be made somewhere near enough to satisfy the pressing demand.

TURNABOUT

One thought in Eddie Rickenbacker's tale of his experiences after his plane went down at sea seems particularly worthy of repetition for its possible effect upon the thoughtless.

If by some miracle the men from Bataan, Guadalcanal, New Guinea, Tunisia and other fighting fronts could be brought home to change places with workers in American factories, the famous ace believes that production would double almost overnight.

Those men know at first hand that wars are not won with goods in process. They know how Death entertains himself with inadequately and improperly equipped troops. They realize how many lives could be saved if every machine worked 168 hours a week at top efficiency.

Is there some way, except by giving every man a shift under enemy fire, that this lesson can be impressed upon the nation?

DON'T!

The following valuable and timely suggestion is offered by "Aviation Index," published in the interest of the P. I. A. at Pittsburgh:

The War Department has announced that, although it encourages mail from families and friends of soldiers in all theaters of war and in training centers, civilians should not write to soldiers unknown to them.

The War Department said that it is discouraging soldiers from answering letters from correspondents with whom they are not acquainted.

Striking up acquaintanceship with soldiers through also good-will organizations is one of the old techniques of espionage, the War Department said, and is still in practice.

Write, and write often, to the boys in the Army—only to ones you know!

That was a great variety of weather dished out over the three-day holiday.

Final Instructions to Kid 78th

Washington In Wartime

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON—The Capital in Wartime:

Shades of the Pony Express! The Postoffice Department has got itself a marching song. As nearly as your correspondent's unmusical ear could make out, it isn't bad either. Music and lyrics were written by a couple of fellows who should know for they have both served the postoffice for years.

Some of the couplets go: "I carry the mail for Uncle Sam, I take it through with speed and wham!" and "I bring your mail from far and near, I'm next of kin to Paul Revere." The boys got in a dig at a couple of old traditional mail service gags, with the lines: "I get it there right on the minute, and never peek to see what's in it." My favorite is the plaint on the mailman's long hours and his absence of time for the little joys of life. It goes: "I carry on from dawn 'til dark, and don't have time to stop and spark."

GONE from the slip on the Main avenue is the 75-room "floating hotel," Amphitrite, which has been getting notices in the dailies here for months. Ever since it came lumbering up the coast from Fort Lauderdale, Fla., to do its bit in relieving the Washington housing situation, it has had troubles galore.

To get it remodelled and refurnished, its owners had to battle priorities. To get it moored, they had to scrap ever rental rights. There were ruckuses with public utilities, local officials and WPB. But that's all over now. The army has taken over.

Shining like a millionaire's yacht, the motorless "waterway hotel" was towed silently away the other night. Destination—a military secret.

THE Boston and St. John's night club fire tragedies have had real repercussions in Washington. Nearly all of the local department stores have hidden away their ash-trays and posted "No Smoking" signs.

The city fathers dug down in a dusty bin and unearthed an old ordinance strengthening the District's fire protection laws and passed it pronto.

Many of the night clubs, including that free-for-all-service-men, the "Stage Door Canteen," are holding frequent fire drills. The "Stage Door Canteen," in the old Belasco theater, emptied its packed interior the other night in one minute and ten seconds, without even a Marine stepping on an army man's toe.

Comment By Grover

By JOHN GROVER

SALARY boosts for federal workers approved in the last hours of the 77th Congress must tackle the federal labor problem as one of its first chores.

Congress recognized the temporary nature of the pay increase measure in limiting its life to April 30, 1943. The bill provides an average 10 per cent income boost for lower-bracket federal employees. This is still short of the 15 per cent yardstick for pay boosts fixed by the War Labor Board in the "little steel" wage decision.

Personnel directors in many federal agencies are privately dubious that the stop-gap measure will slow the tide of resignations from federal jobs, now at the rate of 125,000 a month.

Disgruntled federal workers point out that half the average 10 per cent wage boost will be nullified in two weeks when the Victory Tax "bite" is taken out of all paychecks. Minor U. S. employees are also under heavy supervisory pressure to subscribe 10 per cent of salary for war bonds, and it makes the $1,260 to $1,620 incomes ($105 to $135 monthly) of the majority of U. S. employees look microscopic matched against wartime living costs and the necessity of maintaining a "dresy front."

The pay increase bill that finally was approved was a compromise measure. Debate over the permanent program is likely to start fireworks in the next Congress.

There is always a Congressional-sounding group which fosters new government jobs to build patronage fences back home. These gray train boys have been in the saddle for years, beaming benignly as agency after agency created new positions in "emergency" that became permanent.

Lately the "economy bloc" has gained strength. They are currently alarmed that the federal payroll includes an unprecedented 2,500,000 names, and is going up.

The economy bloc forced the Byrd amendment to the pay boost bill, requiring department heads to justify the employment of all workers under their supervision in detailed reports to the director of the budget. The amendment aims at eliminating all but war-vital jobs and essential posts in non-war agencies.

Here's the way most competent analysts figure the federal labor problem will shake down in the next Congress:

1. Salaries for the rank and file who work in federal service are too low to meet private industry competition.

2. On the other hand, a powerful Congressional group, to be reinforced in the next Congress, believes—with reason—that many agencies are overstaffed and are wasting help on non-essential government firms.

From all indications, settlement of the federal labor problem will result in elimination of a considerable number of U. S. employees, but those adjudged essential will be granted salaries more in line with the facts of wartime life.

The Blue Line from Sugar Grove to Warren is filling a long felt want. Thirty passengers were carried on one trip this week.

R. F. Chapel who resides on the Six Mile near Tiona lost his entire flock of 350 chickens by fire which destroyed his coops last night. He had some fine pedigree birds being one of the leading chicken fanciers of this section.

A most welcome New Years gift is the advance in the price of crude oil having advanced from $3 to $3.25.

P. W. M. Pressell and Floyd Bathurst have returned from Bethlehem, Pa., where they attended a meeting of educators of the state.

The Woman's Club is preparing for the production of its play "The Glorious Girl" which will be presented January 11th and 12th. Mrs. Emmett Ash is chairman of the talent committee.

New license plates are decorating the automobiles today. Many of them were seen on New Years Eve.

The ice moved out of the river and creek at Kinzua causing the trouble which had been anticipated.

The New Year was welcomed by tooting of all the whistles in town and the ringing of church bells. Many merry makers also popped off a few shot gun shells to add to the din of the occasion.

Stuart Kuhre, well known young meat cutter will open a meat market on St. Claire street. He is well known about the city and should enjoy a brisk business.

The coal dock at Otts Siding burned last night and it was not until this morning that the last hot coals were extinguished. The pumper from Warren responded to the call but could not get to the fire on account of cars on the siding so returned to the fire station. Later another call was received and the firemen responded.

Obituary

SARAH JANE REGNER

Mrs. Sarah Jane Regner passed away at 2:10 p. m. Sunday at the home of her son, Frank, 16 Linwood street. She was born here November 18, 1862, and had been a lifelong member of the First Lutheran church.

Besides her son, she leaves two grandsons, Charles Regner, at home, and Sgt. John Regner, St. Joseph, Mo.; two sisters and one brother, Mrs. E. M. Hutchins, Warren; Mrs. Emma Kidder and Albert Beisecker, Pomona, Calif.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Wednesday at the home of her son, where friends may call at any time. The rites will be conducted by Dr. H. A. Rindard and interment will be made in Oakland cemetery.

MRS. MINNIE DICKERT

Funeral services for Mrs. Minnie Dickert were held from the family home on Fourth street, Youngsville, with Pastor Floyd Strunk of the Seventh Day Adventist church officiating. Two beautiful duets, "Not Now But in the Coming Years" and "It Is Well With My Soul," were sung. Sons and grandsons of the deceased who acted as bearers were Frank and Gerald Dickert, Lewis and Donald Nelson, John and Johnny Owens.

Those who came from away were her son, Gerald, who is in the army; a sister-in-law from the west; Mrs. Anna Wood, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Dickert, Oil City.

MRS. FRANCES ELIZABETH SIGGINS

Funeral services in memory of Mrs. Frances Elizabeth Siggins were held at two o'clock Saturday afternoon at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Dr. and Mrs. H. H. Barr, 18 Hertz street. Officiating were Rev. H. L. Knapp, pastor, Dr. J. H. Clemens and Dr. T. E. Colley. Interment was made in Oakland cemetery with Roy Blodgett, Alan Templeton, Charles Miller, Rush Boyd, Earl Christensen and Andrew Nelson as bearers.

Attending from out of town were Mrs. Webster Carson, Pleasantville; Mrs. Mauley Siggins, Titusville; Mrs. May Millard and Mrs. Mabel Anderson, Jamestown.

MARGARET ALEXANDER

Funeral services in memory of Mrs. Margaret Alexander, 107 Franklin street, were held at the family home at four o'clock Saturday afternoon, conducted by her pastor, Dr. T. E. Colley, First Methodist minister. Bearers for interment in Oakland cemetery were A. R. Peterson, William Duncan, William Simonsen, George Hunter, Norman Buser and Homer Bowersox.

Attending the services from away were Mrs. Harry Wallace, Miss Betty Wallace, Mr. and Mrs. William Young, all of Titusville.

ALICE M. ROGERS

Funeral services were held at two o'clock this afternoon at the Peterson Funeral Home in memory of Mrs. Alice M. Rogers, who died New Year's Day at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Fred Koelle, in Philadelphia. Aged 85 years, she had been ill only a short time. She was a member of the Methodist church in Philadelphia and attended services there so long as her health permitted.

Besides her daughter, she leaves two sons, Harry and Russell, of Warren; five grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Rites in her memory were conducted by Dr. T. E. Colley, minister of the First Methodist church and the following acted as bearers for interment in Oakland cemetery: George Irvin, Howard Kinkead, Ivan S. Brumagim, W. P. Arnold, Willis Winerter and Stanley Cramer.

Mr. and Mrs. Koelle, of Philadelphia, attended from out of town.

IS APPRECIATIVE

Gurney Ball, factory inspector for this district was in town today and stated that the department of Labor and Industry through H. C. Hutchison, superintendent desired to extend its appreciation to the clubs, schools, lodges and other bodies for their co-operation during the holiday season. There were no fires due to the observance of the ruling of the department. He urged there be no let up now and asked all to keep hazards down. He asks that fire escapes be kept free from ice, snow and rubbish and that all exit doors work properly.

RIVER CONTINUES TO DROP

The cold snap that followed the reaching of the flood stage in the river and streams of this section last week checked the rise of the streams and they have been steadily dropping. The river is fast nearing a normal stage and the flood waters have gone from most of the low lands that were flooded. Sunday the weatherman gave an exhibition of his versatility when he produced chills, high winds, sleet, rain and then turned all into snow. The streets were left in an icy condition and many suffered falls and driving was dangerous and required careful handling of cars.

"You mean I'm serving Uncle Sam now in protecting our water pipes?"

Yes, Mrs. Housewife . . . and you are also being thrifty.

You see, frozen plumbing and burst pipes require metal replacements now needed in National Defense. And with plumbing supplies limited your repair costs use. So save yourself extra expense by safeguarding your water pipes. Right away, stuff all cracks around basement openings . . . wrap exposed pipes . . . shut off and drain outside services.

And in FREEZING WEATHER let water trickle all night from one faucet (a quart a minute is enough.) Costs a few cents—but saves you dollars in damage.

PACIFIC PATROL BY ELEANOR ATTERBURY

YESTERDAY: The moment when Dan Sherman, U.S.N., struck Santa Philippa, things began happening. He told the town's best citizens straight out what was wrong with their war effort: a gap submarine, a mass evacuation of beach-dwellers was undertaken. Now Mary Garthwaite has been taken out of her plane spotting post and to lunch by Dan—and her fiancé, Porter Lloyd, just has spotted her plane is annoyed.

Chapter Six
Dan Makes Progress
IN THE interval that it took Lloyd to cross the crowded hotel dining room, Mary hovered between laughter and tears. She'd never provoked him to anger before. She wasn't at all sure just what he would do.
"Smatter? Seeing a ghost?" Dan asked, his back to the doorway, his blue eyes intent on her face.
"No, just Porter," she tried to say calmly but there were butterflies in her throat.
"Oh-oh, Caught in the act. Will he shoot me on sight, d'ya think?" Dan grinned, teasing her, and she flushed.
"Don't be ridiculous. Why should he?"
"He knows a rival when he sees one," Dan said calmly, pushing back his chair, turning to thrust a hand toward Porter Lloyd. "Hello, fellow. Glad to see you. Sit down."
Porter shook the hand courteously. "No, thank you, Sherman. I'm lunching with a committee. Sorry." Then he turned to Mary. "Hello, dear. I'd hoped you would be at home taking a beauty sleep by now."
"Oh, don't be stuffy, Port," she laughed, trying to keep her embarrassment hidden behind nonchalance. "He's afraid I'll fall asleep at his mother's party tonight," she explained carelessly to Dan.
And then would have given anything to have the words back. Porter was always so considerate, so very much the gentleman, she was ashamed to be behaving like a spoiled child. He'd hate this sort of thing.
Porter's expression didn't change. He turned to Dan and said, courteously, "Mother is receiving all our friends this evening in honor of Mary. I know she'd be delighted if you could come, Lieutenant."
And now Mary was undone! Porter would never forgive her for forcing him into inviting Dan Sherman. She caught Dan's glance, shook her head faintly, formed a soundless "No" with her lips.
Dan's eyebrow slanted wickedly and he smiled as he thanked Porter. "Of course, I'd be delighted to come. Thank you for your invitation."
Mary's look would have slayed "I didn't know your stay here was to be so long," she murmured.
"Oh, I have two weeks' furlough," Dan beamed at her. "I was planning to spend several days of it here."
"Good. And now if you'll excuse me," Porter nodded to Dan, smiled down at Mary. "I'll call for you about eight, then."

First Round of 'Y' League Opens With Two Fast Tilts

Rock Cleaners And O'Connors Win To Head First Division

The "Y" League got off to a scorching start Saturday night as two of the best games this season started off the first round. The mighty O'Connors of Sheffield bucked up against their hardest games of the year when they took on the Struthers-Wells five and finally came out ahead by a 34 to 26 score after a see-saw battle all the way through.

THE BIG SIX:
"Buck" Samuelson - Rocks 15.
Farnsworth - O'Connors 14.
Bob Lundquist - Bloms 11.
Bob Chase - Struthers 10.
"Mike" Blech - Bloms 8.
Bob Jewell - Rocks 8.

The Struthers outfit played up and down ball throughout the first half and with the end of that period the score stood at 15 to 11. Then they put on a third quarter spurt that brought them within 1 point of the O'Connors in that session. They fell behind in the next quarters and couldn't pull any closer than four points in this stanza, then finally dropped the county. Farnsworth bore the brunt of the Sheffield free scoring as he racked up 14 points while "Pop" Chase the "E" team of Warren with 10 counters.

The second game red the excitement of the night when the Rock Cleaners took on the Blomquist Furniture and after trailing all through the game finally eked out a close 40 to 37 count to stay at the helm of the league with the O'Connors. This was undoubtedly the fastest game of a local court this season and kept the fans in an uproar at all times. The Blomquist outscored the Rocks in each of the first two sessions and at the half the score stood at 22 to 17, favor of the Furniture.

The Rocks hits their usual second half stride then and found the range often with the third quarter ending and the Rocks behind by a single point, after outscoring them 13 to 9 in that period. The fourth stanza was tight and some of the best guarding and pass-work this year was seen, with the North Warren five tying the score in the closing minutes of the contest. With one minute left to go, and the score standing 38 to 37 favor of the Rocks, "Buck" Samuelson took advantage of a quick break, faked a shot and with nobody near him clinched the game from right under the stings and the whistle blew with the board reading 40 to 37, favor of the Rock Cleaners. "Buck" Samuelson took the Rocks to their first win over the Blomquist with a total of 15 points, while Lundquist headed the losers with 11.

Sinkwich To Make Picture

Sinkwich boarded an airplane yesterday for Washington, D. C., where he is to appear before the Touchdown Club to receive the Walter Camp Memorial Cup. While in Hollywood, Sinkwich conferred with Columbia studio executives and afterward President Harry Cohn announced the All-American grid star had accepted an offer to make a motion picture sometime before he dons a marine uniform in March.

Sinkwich's wife, Adeline, also received a movie offer, but turned it down, at least until Frankie enters the service.

Covering The Sports Front

—WITH—
"BOB" JOHNSON

Eddie Tryon of the crack 1925 Colgate University team, which went through an undefeated season, decided to "tryon" a few ideas for the coming '43 football year. He said that college and pro football will go out because of lack of players and that high school ball will "boom."

We would like to know just where in heck that "boom" will be and how it's going to come about. There seem to be a lot of backers along with him on the same subject and we can't understand their feelings, either. Here they are speaking out of large cities where several schools operate and they expect that in high school sports the teams of mention are only a few miles apart, with the consequence that it will be a flourishing year for all. Again we come back and say if they don't offer the majority of the high schools a little more gas for their schedules, what these boys are saying won't be enough gas to go on.

We can well understand their thoughts when they speak from such cities as Cleveland, New York, Pittsburgh and any number of others, and that the Army and Navy have a warm feeling toward them continuing their activities, because of the physical buildup these future soldiers are going to need, but how about such schools as Warren? Fans would get pretty sick of the Dragons playing Sheffield and Youngville three or four times a season just to get games and we ask how they could play any other outfits if the gas situation stays the same.

Take the whole of Pennsylvania and try to find teams from high schools large enough to attempt an "as usual sched" which are close enough that they wouldn't take a chance every time they loaded up of getting back without pushing.

We don't criticize any other source than those in mention and don't say that the high schools should have more gas for their games if the country needs it and the rubber, but when it comes to boys in high school needing physical education to keep fit, they need it just as much in the smaller towns as they do in the cities, and if they can find a solution for this in their "boom", we would like to see that, too.

Dusting off the desk, we find Sammy Baugh still having a hard time convincing the "Yeah-we-know" bracketeers that he could sleep on that plane and feel rested enough to start in the Redskins-All Stars contest last week. They think he's got a touch of Texas in his talk. News that "Stretch" Campbell is in Guadalcanal with the Marines will recall that this former high school star joined right after Pearl Harbor to get action. We who know him will say that the sports fans of Warren are all with him as one of the cleanest sportsmen ever turned out of the community. ... Did you see Ray Peebles' "Ankle Revue" in the Erie Dispatch the other night? It attested the fact that the Wolves were more interested for the past week with the Marines' ankles than all the glamor girls in the business. ... You can start howling again, fellas, after his Friday's performance.

Georgia Back Takes Kickoff

Georgia's football team knocked at the door for three periods and finally crashed through in the final quarter to defeat the Bruins of the University of California at Los Angeles, 9-0, before a Rose Bowl crowd of 9,000. With Frankie Sinkwich, third star, on the bench most of the game, the Bulldogs had to rely on such backs as Lamar Davis (No. 64), shown above returning UCLA's kickoff for thirty yards on first play of the game. Davis has just snatched his way past UCLA's end, Wiener (left) and Halfback Riddle (No. 22) on the right.

Usual Large Crowds Turn Out For Annual Rose Bowl Game

BY AUSTIN BEALMEAR
New York, Jan. 4. (P.)—U. C. L. A. and two bad ankles didn't stop Frankie Sinkwich and the war didn't stop the customers Friday as the advent of 1943 brought the expected number of New Year's day football games to an unexpected number of fans.

In spite of gasoline rationing, and travel restrictions, the six major holiday classics were played before a combined attendance of approximately 302,000, about 50,000 more than watched the same games a year ago.

In Pasadena's Rose Bowl game, back home after being chased all the way to the Atlantic Coast by wartime precautions last year, a capacity crowd of 38,000 watched the Georgia Bulldogs shut out the Bruins of U. C. L. A. 9-0. Only 36,000 watched the 1942 game at Durham, N. C., because there wasn't room for any more.

In the Sugar Bowl at New Orleans, Tennessee's Volunteers nipped the all-victorious Tulsa Hurricane, 14-7, before 70,000, only 3,000 less than the sellout mob of 1942 and fully 20,000 more than advance ticket sales indicated.

A crowd of 36,000 which say Texas turn back Georgia Tech, 14-7, in the Cotton Bowl at Dallas, was 2,000 shy of last year's mob but at least 10,000 more than the promoters expected.

Thirty thousand got their money's worth in Miami's Orange Bowl clash when Alabama stormed through Boston College, 37-21. The previous year's attendance was 35,595, but since then the stadium's seating capacity had been reduced something like 7,000.

An overflow crowd of 16,000 squeezed into the 15,000-capacity stands at El Paso, Tex., for the Sun Bowl game, in which the Second Air Force Bombers trounced Hardin-Simmons, 13-7. And at San Francisco, the Eastern All-Stars tossed out the westerners, 12-12, before 28,000, 2,000 more than saw the shrine encounter last year when it was shifted to New Orleans.

Virtually all the luminaries performed as advertised. Hobbled by injuries to both ankles, Sinkwich led Georgia to victory in the Rose Bowl by scoring the game's only touchdown in the final period. And it was his high-powered running mate, George Poschner, who broke through with Red Boyd to block Bob Waterfield's punt and post a safety that opened the scoring after the teams had battled through three periods without a tally.

SPORT SHORTS

Pittsburgh, Jan. 4. (P.)—Baldwin Township High School has lost its coach, Jack Schrickler, former boxing instructor at the University of Pittsburgh, to the navy. He has accepted a lieutenant's commission and will report for duty Thursday at Chapel Hill, N. C.

Pittsburgh, Jan. 4. (P.)—Three Pittsburgh boxers will take part in the three 10-round bouts of a fight card Jan. 12 at the Gardens. Matchmaker Jake Mintz said last night. Curtis Sheppard, negro heavyweight, will meet Buddy Walker of Columbus, O.; Fritz Zivic, former welterweight champion, will take on Mayon Padlo of Philadelphia; and Carmen Notch, another welter, will meet Al (Bummy) Davis of New York.

Meadville, Jan. 4. (P.)—Hereafter, Al Werner will coach both football and basketball at Allegheny College. He has taken over the duties of Basketball Coach John (Bunk) McGeever, former Duquesne University star, who resigned.

Landis Calls Owners For A Conference

Chicago, Jan. 4. (P.)—Baseball officials began gathering in Chicago today for Commissioner K. M. Landis' emergency session at the Palmer House tomorrow, which President William Harridge of the American League believes "will definitely straighten out the 1943 season."

"We'll know the where and when of spring training," he said. "And after we find this out we can map a definite schedule."

"I'm not sure what Judge Landis has in mind. He hasn't mentioned his conference with O'D Director Eastman with anyone. All baseball men can do until tomorrow is speculate."

Harridge believes if the regular 154 game schedule is continued it easily could be fitted into a shortened season by making "double-header days" common attractions just like double features at theatres.

The main questions for the mileage conservation parley center on inaugurating the season April 13 or about the 27th, trimming schedules from 154 to 140 games, reducing traveling squads from 25 to about 20 players by leaving utility men at home, and whether to open spring training within a radius of home or actually at home.

"Eight daily newspapers are now selling at the 24 cents rate for six days; two get 21 cents; seven 20 cents; 68, 18 cents; 29, 15 cents; 12, 12 cents; six, 10 cents; and one, six cents.

"Four newspapers found it necessary to increase subscription rates twice during 1942: New Castle News and Lock Haven Express raised from 12 cents to 18 cents and later from 18 to 24 cents.

"The Indiana Evening Gazette recently announced an increase of 18 cents a week, after having jumped from 12 to 15 cents last February. Waynesboro Record Herald moved rates from 10 cents to 12 cents a week, but told readers that unless advertising improved, the rate would be boosted to 15 cents six months later. The 15-cent rate is now in effect.

"Pennsylvania's 24-cent newspapers include: Pittsburgh Post-Gazette, Pittsburgh Press and Courier, Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph, McKeesport Daily News, New Castle News, Sharon Herald, Lock Haven Express and Norristown Times-Herald.

"The Jeannette News-Dispatch, which sells for 20 cents a week, is published only five days a week.

opposition to special powers for the chief executive as an aftermath of a fight in the 1942 special session when James was rebuffed in efforts to obtain authority to suspend or modify state laws hampering the war effort.

Legislative leaders, however, expect some debate on the problem of permitting action when the assembly is not in session. James cut the speed limit from 50 to 35 miles by proclamation to conserve rubber.

Another issue for the lawmakers is liquor control.

While Martin has said the state should be reorganized for representation in congress as a follow up through a compromise plan worked out on the basis of the 1940 census to cut the delegation from 34 to 33, some question has arisen as to whether the legislature may do this until another census is taken. Reapportionment is proposed for legislative and senatorial districts, which has not been touched since 1921.

Delayed accounts of the Russian occupation of Elista said it was a victory of men over machines. Red army infantrymen mastering German tanks in a violent battle.

There were no further specific reports of the progress of the Red army offensives south of Stalingrad or in the Middle Don region. In the latter sector the Germans were resisting stubbornly along prepared lines of defense, Red Star said.

Pravda said that one Middle Don village which the Germans sought to hold at any cost changed hands several times before the Red army finally held the position and cut the Nazi line of retreat. The newspaper did not identify the village, but said 16 German tanks were wrecked in the fighting.

The student-musicians have voted to give one-half the proceeds of the concert to the USO.

TWELFTH NIGHT PARTY

Because of wartime and other local conditions, Warren County Council of Girl Scouts decided some time ago to forego its outdoor burning of the greens ceremony for Twelfth Night and has planned instead a party which will take place from seven until nine Wednesday evening in the YWCA activities building. A Twelfth Night King and Queen and their court will be selected in the usual manner, even though outdoor festivities are out for the duration.

EXHIBITION HERE TONIGHT

Through Warren E. Miller, local administrative head, the Pennsylvania State College has issued a public invitation to attend the exhibition on electricity to be presented by the "autolab" in the high school auditorium at 8:30 p. m. tonight. According to Dr. Marsh White, Penn State's head of physics faculty for the war courses, the program has been planned to interest anyone who has ever snapped a light switch or dialed a radio. Through a combination lecture-demonstration, all basic principles involved in the operation of electrical devices will be shown by the "laboratory on wheels."

Millions of cars, trucks and buses may soon be off the road because of the lack of automobile mechanics.

November usually is the driest month of the year.

Passenger car transportation last year was six times all other methods, with railroads running a weak second.
